

Eric Suben is an award-winning fiction writer and essayist and is the author of numerous children's books, co-author of three writer's guides, and his articles have appeared in periodicals including newspapers, trade and professional magazines, and scholarly journals. He is a former theatre critic for The Villager (NYC) and is a seasoned stage and voice performer. His one-act play The Other Side was produced as part of the 2025 Pittsburgh New Works Festival, and his short play Sunny Side is being staged by Westchester Collaborative Theatre in December 2025.