

I have lived in Northeast Ohio my entire life. I began teaching Mathematics and Computer Programming in the fall of 1999. I began writing plays about three years ago. I have included my experiences as a teacher in my plays, along with my life journey as an early widower. A few of my consistent themes are trauma-based humor, supporting and advocating for LGBTQ+ rights and strong female STEM characters.

I have had a few informal readings, and one of my 10-minute plays, Princess Lily and the Greedy Wizard, received a staged reading at the 2025 border light festival. Two other plays have been selected by Kent State Trumble for readings at their sips and scripts monthly events. I am hoping I can eventually get a full production of one of my plays.
